

Reading Champions player profile

Name: Marcus Hahnemann

Club: Wolverhampton
Wanderers

Player information

Marcus Hahnemann plays goalkeeper for Wolverhampton Wanderers in the Premier League, sporting the 1 on his jersey.

Marcus, who's originally from the United States, played for the American Major League Soccer Colorado Rapids before making a name for himself in the UK with Fulham in 1999. Marcus then joined Reading in 2002. He was first selected for the US national team on 12 November 2004 and has made a handful of appearances since. He was also included in the Championship Team of the Year voted for by the Professional Footballers' Association. Marcus recently signed a one year contract with Wolverhampton on 17 June 2009.

Player interview

How do you feel about reading?

Reading is so important to me and it leads to so many other things, that's what I always tell my boys.

What book would you recommend to your school aged fans?

Clive Cussler's Sacred Stone is great. It's just about adventure, kind of like James Bond but a secret agent where the guy goes in and finds ship wrecks and there is mystery involved. The story is easy to follow and it's an easy read,. When you're on the bus just sitting around and chilling out it's really important to have something easy that you can just pick up and read.